REDWOOD TRUST ANNOUNCES RWT HORIZONS INVESTMENT IN AN INNOVATIVE PLATFORM FOCUSED ON DIGITIZING THE DUE-DILIGENCE REVIEW PROCESS, CANOPY

MILL VALLEY, CA – Thursday, October 14, 2021 /PRNewswire/ – Redwood Trust, Inc. (NYSE: RWT), a leader in expanding access to housing for homebuyers and renters, today announced an investment in Canopy Financial Technology Partners (“Canopy”) a consumer finance due diligence and third-party review firm that leverages emerging technology to deliver services and solutions for the Residential and Business Purpose mortgage lending markets. The investment was completed through Redwood’s RWT Horizons venture investment arm, which targets early and mid-stage companies transforming sectors like financial and real-estate technology.

Canopy, in addition to providing third-party review services for the residential mortgage-backed securitization marketplace, is focusing on identity validation and data solutions that will permit traditional, non-blockchain native mortgage companies to deliver loans with ease into capital markets that currently, or plan to, leverage the use of blockchain technology.

The investment is the culmination of ongoing engagement between the companies that will result in the leveraging of Canopy’s emerging technology to support the evolving $11 trillion-dollar mortgage industry. Redwood and Canopy share strong cultural alignment with a focus on diversity, inclusion, and employee development as key pillars to company success.

Fred Matera, Managing Director and Head of Residential at Redwood Trust said, “We are excited to further build out our RWT Horizons platform through this strategic partnership with Canopy. John and his team have built a compelling platform as an innovative due-diligence service provider that addresses a key constraint in the mortgage origination system, and we believe their innovative approach to due-diligence review will enhance the efficiency of loan processing times in the mortgage industry.” Matera continued, “Canopy’s digitalization of the time-consuming due-diligence review process can provide its customers with an improved process, and we believe Redwood and other companies in our RWT Horizons ecosystem can also benefit from their offerings. As a leader in housing finance, this investment is another example of Redwood’s commitment to improving and disrupting the housing finance market with innovative solutions that help all stakeholders in the non-agency mortgage ecosystem, which should enable them to reduce costs for borrowers.”

John Levonick, Chief Executive Officer of Canopy said, “We are thrilled about this strategic partnership. This opportunity to work with Redwood, as well as the other companies in the RWT Horizons ecosystem, will permit us to accelerate our focus on leveraging emerging technology to reduce the friction and cost of loan acquisition and securitization in the capital markets through the digitalization of the mortgage, as an asset, so as to achieve interoperability with digital asset ecosystems that reside on distributed ledger technologies. Levonick continued, “We are excited that there are so many synergies between the perspectives of the leadership, and within the organizations of both Redwood/RWT Horizons and Canopy. One example is our focus on employee development has materialized in the launching of the digital learning platform, CanopyLMS, for those seeking expert training for new employees just starting in the business or seasoned mortgage professionals looking to grow professionally with the freshest market perspective and knowhow. We are confident that Canopy will flourish as part of the RWT Horizons ecosystem.”
